why' bj's foods

bj's foods subscribes to the following core beliefs and principles that we employ daily to ensure that you, our client, gets exceptional value and service:

- o Listening to the wishes of our clients and exceeding their expectations. Every time.

"As far as any function goes, the key is listening to exactly what our clients want."

bj's foods does not roll out the same standard menus for every event like other catering companies. Instead, individual event specific menus are developed to ensure every event menu is created in line with the client's requirements. The client provides the pathway for their event with bj's foods ensuring the best quality products are provided for all aspects of the event, from the ingredients through to staffing.

Whether the client requires gourmet fish and chips for 100 or a five course dinner party for 20, the bj's foods team will provide each and every client the same level of dedication and attention to detail.

- o Using and serving high quality, freshly prepared produce.

"Our philosophy on food is simple – We will only ever serve food that we would happily eat ourselves."

Everything is made fresh with the best ingredients and menus are designed to order following your brief to the bj's foods team.

- o Vibrant and knowledgeable staff.

Bored faces earning an extra buck while wearing the black and white service uniform are not allowed at bj's foods.

The bj's foods team are selected for their passion for food, vibrancy, and their love of providing great parties, from the event managers through to kitchen hands.

Staff members are always well-presented and enthusiastic - ensuring your guests will have their food and drinks circulated in style.

- o Full service. Exceptional service.

The team at bj's is always improving your service experience, so that clients can actually be treated as clients, not as customers. Try bj's foods and experience a truly satisfying client experience for yourself.

bj's foods offers all our clients an extended range of services in addition to catering, ranging from complete event management through to the provision of individual event components such as beverages, hire goods, lighting and theming, as well as unique items tailored specifically for your event.
